DEAR FRIENDS AND PARTNERS OF MACEDONIA2025,

Our vision and success will only grow in the years to come!

This year, we celebrated our 10-year anniversary as an organization, which is the right time to look back and reflect on what we have accomplished.

So far, we have invested 1 million dollars in our leadership development programs and 3 million dollars in activities for economic development. That being said, over 500 managers and entrepreneurs have been positively impacted by our programs, providing world-class education in the prestigious Kellogg School of Management, the Schulich Executive Education Centre (SEEC) in Toronto and other renowned educational institutions in the world.

More than 1000 participants have attended our international trade missions and business networking events in New York, Toronto, Chicago, Paris, Vienna, to name a few, by which we surely do inspired our business diaspora to connect with the homeland. Moreover, our flagship event - the Macedonia2025 Summit, through the years has gathered over 2500 attendees and more than 400 speakers, thus becoming the largest platform for networking and inspiring cooperation for future growth of businesses in Macedonia and the region. At the same time, our research team has produced more than 500 articles, significantly developing our vision of the organization as big-picture think-tank.

As we move into our second decade as an organization working on helping build a stronger nation, we will remain focused on driving significant impact through our programs and initiatives. On that note, we are lucky to announce the most recent changes to the senior management team with Vera Stavroff being appointed as the fourth Chairwoman of the Board and Professor Nikica Mojsoska Blazhevski, taking the position of Macedonia2025’s first Chief Executive Officer (CEO).

After having positioned the organization as one of the most recognizable brands in Macedonia and the region, we are excited to see our newly elected leadership, building upon what has been put in place to date, thus establishing a prosperous and thriving country for all citizens.

We are looking forward to even greater successes and accomplishments in the following decade!

Sincerely,
Robert Arsov, Macedonia2025 Chairman
MACEDONIA2025 MAIN STRATEGIC OBJECTIVES

1. Accelerate economic development

1.1. The Launch of the Bitove Family Entrepreneurship Program in Partnership with CESO SACO

We successfully started 2018 with the launch of a new development program for Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) - the Bitove Family Entrepreneurship Program in partnership with CESO SACO (Canadian Executive Service Organization). CESO is an economic, non-profit development organization, working through highly-skilled, executive-level Volunteer Advisers (VAs) from a wide variety of business backgrounds. By transferring their advanced knowledge, the Canadian Volunteer Advisers significantly improved the organizational, managerial and entrepreneurial capacities of Macedonian businesses. This year, four extremely beneficial assignments were conducted, which increased companies’ competitiveness, providing invaluable training, coaching, mentoring and adoption of the best Canadian practices, thus contributing to the economic development of Macedonia.

“As one of the original Directors of Macedonia 2025 and currently a Member of the Council of Experts, I take great pride in the wonderful work that the organization has done over more than 10 years. My personal focus in support of the ideals of the organization has always been in the area of human capacity building, business talent and executive management development. I am immensely proud to have initiated the successful Leader Program with the Ivey School of Business in 2007 and the Schulich Executive Education Program for Macedonian executives a couple of years later. My commitment to these ideals continued this past year through my initiation of the Canadian Executive Services Organization (CESO) program for Macedonian businesses which began operations with the very generous financial support of the Bitove Family Foundation.

The CESO program has already delivered invaluable advice and coaching to a wide range of Macedonian businesses and will provide at least seven more volunteer advisor assignments by April 2019. My role as a Director of CESO has provided me the opportunity to leverage the more than 50-year experience of one of Canada’s leading economic development non-governmental organizations to the benefit of Macedonian entrepreneurs and the economy as a whole. Having been born in Macedonia and grown up and educated in Canada, I see the opportunity to bring CESO to Macedonia as a very fitting continuation of my long-standing efforts to support the development of the land of my birth with the skills and values I have acquired as a naturalized Canadian.

I salute all my friends and colleagues at Macedonia 2025 for their hard work, dedication and excellent delivery of the CESO program and all of the other wonderful initiatives of Macedonia 2025!”

- Lou Naumovski, Member of Macedonia2025 Council of Experts, Canada.
1.2. Macedonia2025 Summit

The Summit had another stellar line-up that provided amazing insights on how to make Macedonia stronger and how to be a better leader.

400+ participants
60+ top-notch speakers
15+ panel discussions and more!

Below we present some of the major content highlights from the Summit panel discussions:

Moving the Economy Forward

Anthony B. Kim (Research Manager, Heritage Foundation) said that one secret to Macedonia’s future economic success is an engaged diaspora: their experience, success and passion can move the country forward. ‘Macedonia needs to be your project’.

The role of government is to be proactive in providing strong institutions and economic freedom that enables investment and economic growth. Long-term economic success requires all the main political parties agreeing on a common economic vision for the country. Macedonia needs a commitment to sustained economic growth of greater than 4 per cent in order to be transformed.

People are the key resource, according to Ghassan Hasbani (Lebanese Deputy PM and Health Minister) and Otto Georg Schilly (Former German Interior Minister). Both Germany and Lebanon provide examples of how investment in health, formal education, and on-the-job training can help an economy grow, despite difficult circumstances. Macedonia needs a system that better delivers quality human capital. Recent reports on Macedonia’s education system are of concern.

How Artificial Intelligence (AI) is Changing Business, Medicine, and Environment

AI and cloud computing are not new but they are reaching a level of maturity where they are now changing the practices of SMEs. Christian Rupp, Spokesperson of the Federal Platform Digital Austria, explained how SMEs need training to realize the full possibilities of digitalization.

AI, big data, and augmented reality are changing medicine. Doctors are diagnosing people with the help of AI. Augmented reality allows doctors to work with patients and other doctors remotely. In parallel, the declining cost of human genome sequencing is increasing the amount of key data available for each patient.

The circular economy is growing. Products are being designed for recycling so that resources stay in the economy. Even food is being recycled into packaging. Sustainable production and energy is possible and while the price is a problem, new business models are finding a way.
Turning Macedonia into a Start-up Nation

According to Scott Resnick (Founder and Executive Director of StartingBlock Madison), there is not a single magic method for turning Macedonia into a start-up nation. Accelerators and government need to keep asking themselves how they can help start-ups. Method is not the platform. The method is just asking questions, listening and helping.

Macedonian companies need to think globally because of a small domestic market and lack of capital. Macedonian entrepreneurs need to transition from building great products to building great companies. ‘30 years ago we were socialist. Our parents did not start companies. We are first and second generation entrepreneurs’, Emma Poposka, Co-Founder and CEO of Bron.Tech.

The Mindset of a Great Leader

Professor Kevin Murnane (Kellogg School of Management) gave a short masterclass on the mindset of a great leader. Mindset is the choice of a leader to set his mind in the direction needed to achieve their goals. Mindset is not fixed but should be changed as goals change or if you get stuck. ‘You need to reflect on what you’re doing every day to improve. Think big and look to grow. If you haven’t achieved what you wanted just tell yourself ‘not yet’ and ‘keep going’.

A New Industry: Production of Medical Cannabis

Macedonia was an early adopter of pharmaceutical cannabis production, and is now reaping the rewards. With such a highly regulated industry, government and industry must continue to work closely together to ensure continued growth.

1.3. Empowering Female Entrepreneurship: New Project Funded by the Canadian Fund for Local Initiatives (CFLI)

2018 also marked the commencement of a new project funded by the Canadian Fund for Local Initiatives (CFLI), where Macedonia2025 has been selected among numerous applications from the region. The project was structured to add further value to the existing Bitove Family Entrepreneurship Program by reaching out to more beneficiaries, in particular organizations focused on empowering female entrepreneurship, thus promoting gender equality and empowerment of women.

We also organized a panel discussion titled ‘Female Entrepreneurs and Canadian Experts: Mentorship, Development and Sustainability’, where more than 200 guests had the opportunity to hear about the positive experience of the project beneficiaries and to exchange their examples and experiences. H.E. Kati Csaba – Canada’s Ambassador to Serbia, Macedonia and Montenegro was the conference key-note speaker. The long-term goal of this project is achieving greater gender equality in Macedonia, through increased self-sustainability and financial stability of the female associations.

“I am very pleased and honored to be in beautiful Macedonia. I am here with small team of volunteer professionals as business advisors from CESO CASO. We are working with female-led associations and businesses, empowering them with customized advice on areas such as: business strategy, export readiness, technical and management skills, marketing and communications. We coach. We mentor. We guide. We listen. We transfer our knowledge and experience in ways that are truly meaningful to the clients and their businesses.”

- Jennifer Lavoie, CESO SACO Volunteer Adviser, Canada.

1.4. Investors’ Export Showcase and FDI Related Support

As part of our efforts to support the Macedonian start-ups and mid-size companies who are in need of an investor or a client, we have initiated the investors’ showcase program in 2018. We have been collecting and evaluating requests from Macedonian companies and we have showcased the proposals to our growing network of international members and supporters. As a result, a number of investors got in touch with the local companies and a few of them started an actual collaboration.
2. Implement education programs that accelerate leadership development, inspire and improve entrepreneurship in Macedonia

2.1. Zafirovski Executive Education Program: Kellogg School of Management

Macedonia2025 and the Kellogg School of Management have a common interest in providing and delivering world-class executive education to business leaders from Macedonia. The Zafirovski Executive Education Program consists of three-week executive training and offers additional opportunities for mentoring, networking and experiential learning. The aim of the program is to support economic development through future business leadership, by ensuring that the selected executives become role models for future generations.

The program enhances the competencies and performances of Macedonian top managers, who are expected to contribute to the development of their companies, as well as the Macedonian economy and workforce, in general. Macedonia2025 wishes to express gratitude to the Kellogg School of Management and the Robin and Mike Zafirovski Foundation for supporting this leadership development program.

Reflections on my Kellogg’s AMP Journey

“The truth is, and I couldn’t imagine, not in my wildest dreams that it will not only be interesting, but a life-changing experience. My expectations from the program were that I will be able to validate my practical management competencies acquired throughout my 22 years professional career, against management competencies described in theory. But it wasn’t about that. Not even close. It was much, much more. AMP was a world-class education combined with purification of our minds through reflection and contemplation, intended to prepare us for future leadership roles. Furthermore, AMP proved to be instrumental as a powerful lifetime support platform.”

- Marta Arsovska Tomovska, Consultant for Digital Innovation, ITU & Board Member at the UN World Summit Awards, Macedonia.
2.2. Executive Study Tour in Toronto: Schulich School of Business

This Executive Study Tour is implemented in cooperation with the Schulich Executive Education Centre (SEEC) at York University in Toronto, which shares a common interest in providing and delivering executive education to professionals from Macedonia. The program is designed to provide Macedonian top executives with a complete North American experience. It consists of a one-week executive education course and another week of job-shadowing at renowned international companies, in which applicants acquire a genuine business experience.

Schulich School of Business is ranked among the top 10 world business schools by The Financial Times, Forbes Magazine, BusinessWeek, The Wall Street Journal and the Economist. The program also offers a unique networking opportunity that can help export-oriented companies promote their products and services on the global markets.

Toronto and Schulich School of Business: An Experience to Remember

“Maybe the greatest experience from the whole trip is the job-shadowing week. I really want to congratulate Macedonia2025 and especially Jim Nikopoulos - President of ECN Capital and member of Macedonia2025 Board of Directors for their vision and commitment to help professionals from Macedonia extend their business education and experience. I have spent 5 days at ECN Capital’s IT and marketing department and had time to learn and see how one big financial corporation on the North American market functions. What I saw and learned will definitely help me embrace my future professional challenges with greater confidence. The one week spent at the Schulich School of Business and the job-shadowing week, provided me with tools and insights that will assist me in raising my professional career to a higher level.”

- Zoran Milevski, Head of Multimedia and VAS platforms, Makedonski Telekom AD and T-Mobile, Macedonia.
2.3. The Leader Project: Greater Regional Presence through the Western Balkans Fund

This year marked the completion of the eleventh edition of the Leader project, a student-driven overseas education program, where participants have a chance to learn from the renowned Richard Ivey School of Business in London, Ontario, Canada. The aim of this program is to educate Macedonian entrepreneurs on the essentials of doing business such as branding a product, launching a product, developing a strategy and funding, so they can be able to turn their envisioned ideas into viable businesses with increased growth potential.

It is worth noticing that for the first time, Leader project winners from Macedonia, Serbia and Bosnia and Herzegovina had the chance to jointly present their business ideas in front of a regional and international jury, thanks to the project ‘Strengthening of Cross-Border Cooperation and Relations in the Western Balkans through People to People Contact of Young Entrepreneurs’, funded by the Western Balkans Fund.

The three partner organizations (Macedonia2025, CANSEE and Restart) are dedicated to the same goal - strengthening the economies of each country, but also of the entire region. By providing participants with higher exposure and the possibility to expand their professional network, we managed to establish successful regional business cooperation and an improved integration of innovation eco-systems in Macedonia, Serbia and Bosnia and Herzegovina.

“It was a great pleasure to work with the organization Macedonia2025 during the entire 2018. We are proud that our Fund was selected to support this project that strengthens the entrepreneurial skills of Western Balkans youth. We are very much satisfied by the results and impact achieved. Moreover, I want to emphasize the great promotion and visibility that this project brought to our Fund. I endorse the whole team of Macedonia2025 that implemented this wonderful project, which will serve as a good practice and an inspiration for all our potential applicants.”

- Dr. Gjergj Murra, Executive Director of the Western Balkans Fund, Albania.

“Prior to all three competitions, we had been continually working with our appointed mentors, which helped us a lot in our professional development and in most effectively presenting our idea in front of the jury. The feedback that we constantly got, as well as the many opportunities for regional networking were a crucial benefit of this amazing project funded by the Western Balkans Fund and organized by Macedonia2025, CANSEE and Restart.”

- Olga Rajchikj, Winner of the Regional Business Pitching Competition, Macedonia.
2.4. Enhancing Leadership Capacities: Promotional Events around Macedonia

Over the year, we organized several promotional events across the country in Tetovo, Prilep, Štip, Veles and Makedonska Kamenica, supported by the efforts of relevant Ambassadors Club Members. The aim of these events was to promote the organization, its activities and leadership development programs, as well as to increase the opportunities for cooperation of relevant business professionals. Such events helped us in better sharing our story with the Macedonian public. We will not stop here and will definitely work on reaching as many Macedonian cities as possible in the future.

“The event was great in a sense that it promoted Macedonia2025 programs and activities in front of a selected audience of Tetovo-based & SEEU Tech Park companies. It also connected many of the Diaspora representatives in Tetovo and provided enhanced opportunities for future joint cooperation.”

- Gjorgji G. Rafajlovski, LLM, Chief Operating Officer at SEEU Tech Park, South East European University, Macedonia.

On 11 May, we held a Fundraiser and Diaspora Outreach Event in Chicago organized by our Board Member and Event Chair – Michael Cklamovski. The purpose of the event was to introduce Macedonia2025 to the Macedonian Diaspora in Chicago, present the programs and possibilities for becoming a part of it, highlighting the importance of giving back to the country and keeping the links with the motherland. This event helped in connecting our diaspora with Chicago. Invited guests became more acquainted with our mission, vision and core organizational values.
